

FAASTeam presents:

Southwest Aviation Weather and Safety (SAWS) Workshop X

Saturday Morning

Please join the National Weather Service as we bring together the Southwest US aviation and weather forecasting communities to promote aviation safety and productivity through improved weather awareness and forecasting services. This event will be free of charge. This day of the workshop will focus on meeting aviator and air traffic controller needs for weather safety information, including presentations on aviation weather hazard recognition, mitigation, and avoidance; as well as tips on how to effectively use and understand aviation weather data, products, and websites.

Directions: The All Risk Training Center is three miles northeast of Ontario Airport. Enter from Jersey Blvd, just west of Milliken Ave.
